Mike Wilde performed regularly in the Sydney LIVE circuit in Australia, releasing two EP's as Singer/Bass player with Sydney Band PLUS.

The Band appeared on Wonderworld (CH 9), Rage (ABC) and Home and Away (CH 7/One of Australia's most popular TV Exports) in 1996.

Moving to Scandinavia he quickly established himself as a session musician and working Actor on a number of Swedish Television Productions, including the acclaimed Familjen \(The Family, 2002\). This led to an offer to go on the road with The Man Band. Initially started as a fun project the guys soon became a sought after Live Act in Scandinavia.

In 2005 Mike Wilde began to perform as a Solo Artist, while studying at Gothenburg University. "At that time the Singer/Songwriter thing was really taking off and I was encouraged by fellow musicians and friends to get out there and start performing some of my own material."

During this period he was contacted by Swedish Director Jenny Mases, who wrote a part especially for him in her first Film 'Coming Home', which debuted successfully at the Gothenburg Film Festival in 2006. This led to the film being selected for airing on Swedish and Finnish TV several times during 2007/2008.

In 'Coming Home' Mike's character Jack sings 'Shaking', an original MW composition, which has been included as a Bonus Track on his Solo Debut Album, 'Special Stories'.

"This is a bunch of Songs that I have recorded in several different studios, mostly in Scandinavia. It's been an epic journey and a hell of a learning curve.

I have always written and recorded whenever I have had the opportunity and I see 'Special Stories' as a summary of the last ten years of my travels, musically and personally."

Since the limited release of 'Special Stories' in April, 2008, songs like 'Big Fat Angel' have seen Mike Wilde receiving accolades from all over the world, both for his unique writing style and impressive vocal performances.
